

There are lots of great books for summer reading, here are some suggestions from read@rossett members, and Mrs Huett in the Resource Centre:

Mutant City by Steve Feasey: A highly recommended, sci-fi extravaganza featuring a divided world of 'mutants' and 'pures'.

Llama United by local author Scott Allen: A team of football- playing llamas? Plenty of laughs as the llama team dream the impossible and aim for the cup.

The Goldfish Boy by Lisa Thompson: Twelve year old Matthew has OCD, but he turns detective when a child disappears. Perfect for fans of Wonder.

Cinder by Marissa Meyer: A sci-fi fantasy twist on the classic fairytale. One of a series that has flown off the library shelves.

Gullstruck Island by Frances Hardinge: This author writes some very quirky tales and has gathered a devoted fan base at Rossett.

The Wind Singer trilogy by William Nicholson: A great fantasy trilogy that tells the story of a brother and sister in a land where exams and rules are all!

Murder Most Unladylike by Robin Stevens: This series is one of our most popular at the moment. Hazel and Daisy are schoolgirls who investigate a murder at their boarding school. A ripping mystery set in the 1920s!

The Stars at Oktober Bend by Glenda Millard: This poetic novel tells the story of two young people both damaged in some way and their friendship

Railhead by Philip Reeve: A great combination of fantasy, thriller, sci-fi and romance from a really great author.

The Bone Sparrow by Zana Fraillon: A story set in a refugee camp that is inspiring and hopeful. It has been extremely popular at Rossett.

Chase by Linwood Barclay: An edge of your seat thriller from bestselling author Linwood Barclay, his first for children.

Beetle Boy by MG Leonard: His dad has disappeared and Darkus is helped on his search by a giant beetle called Baxter!

Time Travelling with a Hamster by Ross Welford: A funny, heartwarming story of time travel and families.

The Girl of Ink and Stars by Kiran Millwood Hargrave: Isabella yearns to escape from her island. A magical fantasy adventure

Car-Jacked by Ali Sparkes: High octane adventure from the winner of the Blue Peter Book Award.

Demon Road by Derek Landy: A new series from the Skulduggery Pleasant author.

Blame by Simon Mayo: A new series from author and DJ Simon Mayo. Children pay for the crimes of their parents! His other series Itch is really good too.

A Library of Lemons by Jo Cotterill: Grief and friendship feature in this story about Calypso, a book loving teenager.
